

A Message from our new Chairman

Hello everyone. I am writing to introduce myself as the new Chairman of Nottinghamshire Local History Association. You may already know that John Parker is resigning on 28th March 2020, after a long and very busy spell as Chairman. He has worked tirelessly to promote Local History in Nottinghamshire, and will be a hard act to follow – I shall try my best.

I have been a member of NLHA for more years than I care to remember, since studying Local and Regional History at the University of Nottingham, where I obtained my MA in 2007. I am interested in many aspects of local history, particularly social and agricultural history. My MA dissertation was about the rise and fall of the Grimsby fishing industry, which continues to fascinate me. I am currently working on a book about the mediaeval priories of Nottinghamshire and on my memoirs.

Whilst a committee member (now Trustee) of NLHA I have been involved in organising day schools and other events. I particularly enjoyed a ‘Hands on History’ day at a local school, where we introduced 14-year olds to the delights of the Archives, archaeology, and family history. I am particularly keen on getting youngsters involved. I think local history can give them a sense of belonging and pride in their heritage, and I hope to find a way to progress that.

I am keen to continue the long history of NLHA, supporting and representing local historians and Societies, holding day schools, producing our Half-yearly magazine ‘The Historian’, and our monthly email Newsletter. Suggestions are most welcome, and I hope to see you at our next day school – unfortunately due to the present crisis we do not know when that will be. We will keep everyone informed via the Newsletter and our website.

Best wishes to you all, keep safe

Annual Report

Chairman's Annual Report on behalf of the Trustees, March 28th, 2020

Under normal circumstances I would have presented this report to the members of Nottinghamshire Local History Association at our 3rd Annual General Meeting (as a Charitable Incorporated Organization) at Ravenshead Village Hall on 28th March 2020, however with the impact of the Coronavirus outbreak the other trustees and I have taken the decision to cancel the annual general meeting in accordance with government advice and in the best interests, particularly the health and welfare, of our members.

Our normal practice is to use our annual general meetings to act as a review of the year and deal with issues such as the election of trustees/committee members and reviewing the annual accounts, clearly that cannot happen in this instance. Our constitution allows us to hold these meetings at intervals of no more than 15 months and whilst we will try to reconvene the annual general meeting before the end of June 2020 we have to accept that this may not be possible, accordingly we have taken advice from the Charities Commission which will allow us to continue the good management of the Association until such time as an annual general meeting can be held.

I will resign as a trustee with effect from 28th March 2020; fellow trustees Robert Mee, Nick Hayes and Jeremy Lodge will also resign with effect from the same date. The trustees have agreed that Sarah Seaton and Bob Massey should be co-opted as trustees and committee members with effect from 28th March 2020. The trustees have further agreed that Jennifer Sissons should be appointed as chairman, David Anderson as treasurer and Chris Weir as secretary all with effect from 28th March 2020.

I am pleased to report that the Association remains active and committed to the promotion of the study of local history, the financial situation remains sound and we look forward to another successful year. I would like to thank my colleagues and fellow trustees on the Executive Committee for their support during the year and particularly to David Anderson for his hard work and essential contribution to the management and smooth running of the Association. I extend my thanks to all of you for your hard work and support, and indeed to those who have also served as committee members during my time as Chair of the NHLA. I wish you and the Association every success in the future.

John Parker - Chairman

Nottingham City Library Service

Up-to-date information about library services is available via the webpage:
<https://www.nottinghamcity.gov.uk/leisure-and-culture/libraries/coronavirus>

- All Nottingham City Libraries, including the Local Studies Library, will be closed from Friday 20th March
- Any books, CDs and other items currently on loan will be extended to the end of April.
- Any fines will be suspended, so customers will not need to attend libraries to pay fines during this interim period.
- The Home Library Service and Asian Home Library Service have been suspended owing to the nature of the service.
- E-services including E-books, E-audio books and E-newspapers will be available for customers to access online. More information can be found via the e-services page.

Nottingham City Council Events

All Nottingham City Council events, including outdoor events scheduled until the end of May are being either cancelled or re-scheduled to a later date.

This includes popular events such as Robin Hood Live (4 - 5 April), The Magnificent Spiegelent (29 April – 17 May) and Autokarna (31 May). Community-led events including Vaisakhi (19 April) have also been postponed.

Decisions on St George's Day (23 April) and events to commemorate the 75th anniversary of VE Day (8 May) and any events post May will be made in due course.

All INSPIRE venues are now closed until further notice. This includes all Nottinghamshire County Libraries, Mobile libraries, Archives, Arts, 16-18 Study Programmes, Adult, Community and Family Learning.

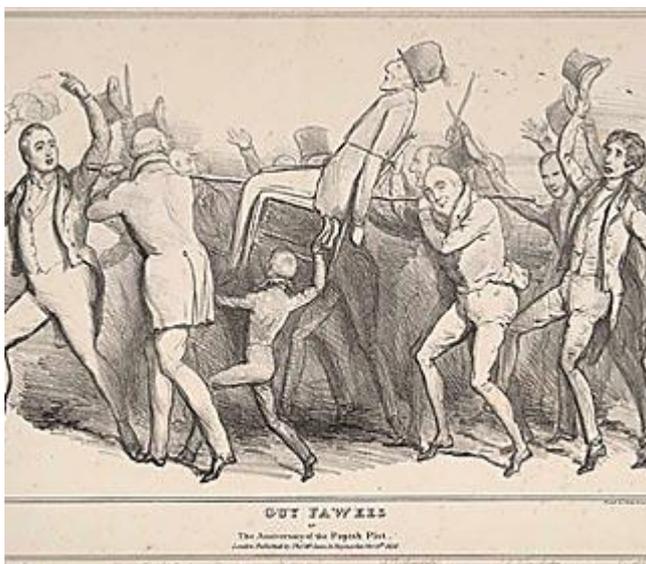

All INSPIRE events, courses and activities are cancelled until the end of April in response to government advice on coronavirus. It is not clear at the moment if this also includes The Great Nottinghamshire Local History Fair at Mansfield on 3rd May, Helen Fox advises that a final decision hasn't been taken yet and 'we will get back to you with more information as soon as we have it'.

Society Events

In this space I would have published a programme of society events for April however most if not all societies have taken the decision to cancel or postpone their meetings. Before the introduction of government guidelines on social gatherings I was updating the website events page and putting notifications onto Facebook as individual groups took the decision to cancel their meetings. I will continue to update the website events page, but I see little point in continuing to post cancellations onto Facebook, there are simply too many of them and in the absence of a specific notice the assumption has to be that all society events have been cancelled at least for April 2020. Anyone who has any queries or questions about local society meetings should contact the society directly.

Facebook

The NLHA Facebook page can be found at <https://www.facebook.com/NottsLocalHistory> and is open to anyone with an interest in local history. Comments, updates, news, events, items of interest, book reviews etc. are all welcome provided that they relate to Nottinghamshire local history (or topics that would be of interest to Nottinghamshire local historians) subject only to the normal standards regarding courtesy and etiquette.

Grants

Even though local society events are effectively shut down there is still the opportunity to conduct individual research and the NLHA grants programme continues to offer support particularly for publishing. For more information see our webpage at <https://nlha.org.uk/grants/>

Web Pages

In the absence of society meetings please remember that Nottinghamshire Local History Association's web page <https://nlha.org.uk> is still active and contains details of local history society contacts, speakers' contacts, book reviews, news items and much more.

James Wright will be recalling some of his site visits over the last 20+ years as an archaeologist by uploading a post every single day to the Triskele Heritage website

The Redress of the Past: Historical Pageants in Britain

The Redress of the Past is a major Arts and Humanities Research Council funded project examining historical pageants in twentieth-century Britain. In July 2019, it was awarded a year of follow-on funding for Impact and Public Engagement. This funding supports a programme of events, exhibitions and other activities.

The project has now published a pageants' database, and would be really interested to hear what you think about the database. Thoughts, comments, suggestions for amendments and corrections all much appreciated - as it will be updated for many years to come.

Please email about the database on historicalpageants@kcl.ac.uk.

The Bookcase

Due to various risk factors amongst the staff and their families, we have had to take the difficult decision to close the shop for the time being, and to cancel forthcoming events including the First Friday and Film Friday programmes. Please keep in touch with us through our website and on Instagram and Facebook where we will be posting regular updates. You can still order books by emailing us with queries or by calling Jane on 07974 609945.

New book explores the turbulent history of the Christian faith in Lincolnshire and Nottinghamshire

Restless Souls Pilgrim Roots
Miracles * Tragedy * Heroism * Betrayal * Revelation * Corruption

In a story running from the early 7th Century until 1660, Adrian Gray places great and intriguing figures in the context of their times and in an unfolding story of spiritual change, rebellion and sometimes death.

You will meet again some well-known figures such as Saint Hugh of Lincoln, Thomas Cranmer the architect of the Church of England, and the mercurial George Fox from Mansfield who formed the Quakers; you will learn more about the first leaders of the Baptist Church and those who became the 'Mayflower' Pilgrims, but the text also restores to our attention many more fascinating and often radical figures who have been forgotten over time.

The range of characters stretches from Guthlac, whose supernatural experiences in the Fens became the first English biography, to Elizabeth Hooton, the Nottinghamshire Quaker who travelled the world and escaped death many times. Often, these people were motivated by a quest for a better Faith and Church, leading them from the 'heresy' of Lollardism to be champions of the Reformation and ultimately leaders of the Civil War against King Charles I. Many died for their beliefs.

The story also has its fair share of 'villains' including corrupt and venal bishops, despotic leaders who sent those who disagreed with them to the stake or the gallows, on both sides of the Atlantic, and one of Elizabethan England's most sinister torturers.

ADRIAN GRAY has an MA in History from Cambridge University and is the author of over twenty books. He is well-known as the historical adviser to Pilgrims & Prophets Christian Heritage Tours and Bassetlaw Christian Heritage, which promote interest in the Christian history of the two counties.

Hardback, 405pps. RRP £28.00, discounts may apply. Order from bookshops or usual suppliers, or direct from the publisher:

MA Local History at the University of Leicester

ABOUT THE COURSE: Studying our MA History (Local History) Pathway will allow you to explore a variety of topics including regional identities, society and landscape, historical ecology, family and community history, and cultural regions. You will combine study of these themes with training in historical research methods to prepare you for pursuing a dissertation on an area of interest to you. This course is run by our internationally acclaimed Centre for English Local History. Our research centre is unique, specialising in pioneering the study of local history across England and Wales. You will study in-depth the interaction between society, families and landscape and use comparative methods to test hypotheses and interpretations, which might include comparisons with places outside of the British Isles.

TEACHING AND ASSESSMENT: You will be taught through a mixture of lectures, seminars, practicals, tutorials and field visits. Our diverse range of teaching methods will help you to develop your observational skills and gain an appreciation of the role of landscape and the structures of community in historical enquiry. The core module 'Historical Research, Historical Writing' offers training in early modern English Palaeography, oral history, GIS and data and landscape analysis. You will be assessed in each module by coursework that takes a variety of forms. You will also complete a dissertation of 15,000 words, developing your research expertise as you work closely with your research supervisor on an area of particular interest to you.

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES AND FURTHER STUDY: Our course is specially designed so that you can develop a wide range of transferable skills to enhance your employability and gain a strong competitive advantage in the job market. Recent graduates of this course have gone on to work in a variety of fields including the Civil Service and local government; planning and housing administration; teaching; project management; the heritage industry; media; social research; and business and management. Our course also provides an excellent grounding and will equip you with the skills required to undertake historical research at doctoral level, and a significant number of our graduates go on to become doctoral researchers each year.

NOTTINGHAMSHIRE SETTLERS & LOCATIONS
IN THE
EASTERN CAPE OF GOOD HOPE, 1820

Bicentennial Edition, 2020

by Rob Smith

Self-published in PDF format only
Fiskerton, Southwell, Nottinghamshire

The Bicentennial Emblem

Nottinghamshire Coat of Arms - granted 1937

The shield shows the natural features of the county. The wave is for River Trent and the oak tree for Sherwood Forest. The crest has a golden mural crown, symbolising local government. A garb rises from the crown, which is itself charged with a black shovel blade. These two charges represent agriculture and coal mining, the two traditional sources of employment in the county. The dexter supporter is a black lion passant-guarded from the arms of the Dukes of Portland. The sinister supporter is a silver greyhound from the Duke of Northumberland's arms. Members of these two families have provided Lord Lieutenants of the county. Both supporters are garbed with Saxon crowns, recalling the Saxon creation of Nottinghamshire in AD 936.

Nottinghamshire Settlers by Rob Smith

Following the Southwell Settlers book which NLHA supported a few years ago, Rob Smith has now completed his book covering the full story of the Nottinghamshire 1820 Settlers in the Eastern Cape, South Africa.

This is the bicentennial year and, in view of contributions to the commemorations freely given by others, Rob has decided to make the book available as a free of charge PDF.

This is an extensive book, so Rob has included a detailed table of contents and index. The search facilities within the PDF reader are also useful to find specific content.
