Volume 03 Issue 10 October 2018

Exploring and Mapping the Historic Landscape around Newark

Be involved in creating the storyboard for a video which aims to unravel landscape development around Newark from the present day back into the Ice Age by using the evidence from topography, geology, archaeology and historical maps and documents. We'll start with satellite images like Google-Earth, then examine the evidence for changes through time until we can focus on the landscape which emerged at the end of the Ice Age. As we work backwards, using geographical and historical map regression, our study will provide an essential backdrop to investigations of all periods of time. Our focus will be around the interfluvium of the Rivers Trent and Devon, and, besides seeking the hidden late glacial landscape, will assemble the evidence for river movements around Newark essential to the understanding of historic landscapes (e.g. the Civil War) and the parish boundaries studied by the CBA Parish Boundaries project <http://boundaryproject.cbaem.org/>

5 sessions November 2018-April 2019

Tues 12th February 2019: Leanne Hughes (British Geological Survey) - Insights from correlating the records of topography and superficial geology

Other sessions on 12th March and 2nd April 2019

For the first session each day specialists will talk about their work in archaeology and geology, and then engage in question and answer sessions. The second session will focus on assembling material from that topic on a map using a freely available Geographical-Information-System (QGIS). IT sessions will be led by Ian Ross. We will also identify resources that need further research so be prepared to conduct your own research at museums and/or Record Offices. Our work will be incorporated into a 'fly-through' of the landscape for an interactive web-resource for the Ice Age Journeys project <http://iceagejourneys.org.uk/> and who knows how much more history will be revealed?

Venue: Community Space at the Newark Civil War Centre, 14 Appletongate, Newark, NG24 1JY.

We will request a donation of £3 to contribute to the funds required to match the Heritage Lottery Funding which supports these sessions. For queries, or to reserve your place: send your name and postcode to info@iceagejourneys.org.uk

ANTHEM FOR A DOOMED YOUTH

ANGEL ROW HISTORY FORUM

The History of the Robin Hood Line, Dave Amos

Join us on Tuesday 6th November 2018 10.00 to 12.00 at 1st Floor Central Library, Angel Row, Nottingham for a talk on The History of the Robin Hood Line with David Amos.

Following tea/coffee from 10.00 the talk will start at 10.30.

The original Leen Valley line was opened as far as Kirkby-in-Ashfield on 2 October 1848 where it joined with the Mansfield & Pinxton Railway and services from Mansfield to Nottingham. The line was owned by the London, Midland and Scottish Railway (LMS) from 1923-1947 and in 1948 became part of the nationalised British Railways (BR). The final closure of all of the stations on the line in October 1964 left Mansfield without a rail link. The line between Nottingham and Newstead re-opened in 1993 and to Mansfield Woodhouse on 20th November 1995 with the final extension to Worksop opening in 1998.

In March 2016 it was reported that 'high-level' talks had begun on extending the Robin Hood rail line across north Nottinghamshire to Ollerton. Nottinghamshire County Council wanted to expand the route and met Government representatives on Monday. Besides the six mile-plus extension from Warsop to Ollerton, the plan would involve re-opening existing stations in Warsop, and Edwinstowe and building a new station in Ollerton.
